

Training & Personal Development

Project Management for Clinical Researchers

This course introduces the core principles of project management as it applies to all roles within clinical research, from CRA to CTA, from Study Manager to Study Site Staff. It considers the skills, areas of strength and areas for improvement for the individual managing single and multiple projects.

2009 Dates:

- 15th December

Duration:

One Day

Course Leader:

Rachel Harrison

Venue:

Phlexglobal Ltd, Mandeville House,
62 The Broadway, Amersham, Bucks HP7 0HJ

Cost:

£425.00 +VAT

Book now: training@phlexglobal.com; ☎ 01494 720420

Further information: 🌐 www.phlexglobal.com/training

Course Outline:

- The life cycle of a clinical trials project
- How to define and scope a clinical trials project
- Working with risk
- Stakeholder management
- Project management people skills
- When it all goes wrong: trouble shooting
- Communication strategies that work

Course Benefits:

The course uses a blend of trainer input and group discussion to ensure that delegates will be able to:

- Understand the life cycle of a project and the roles within a clinical trial project
- Understand the planning and organisational skills required to make projects work
- Explore and analyse the concepts of project and project management
- Understand how to assess and utilise the tools and techniques of project management and apply them to clinical trials
- Generate ideas for actions that you can take to improve the way in which to manage projects

Leader Biography:

Rachel Harrison specialises in communications and management training for employees at all levels in an organisation. Rachel has a proven track record of bespoke training work within the pharmaceutical industry across Europe and a very extensive and diverse experience of training, research and consultancy for both large public sector organisations and small size businesses. Rachel previously worked for the BBC as a Senior Education Advisor. Achievements include project managing two major multi-media educational campaigns in mental health and cancer, building partnerships and creating award winning educational materials. Prior to this she was a Senior Lecturer in Performing Arts and uses her excellent communication skills and creativity to design and deliver programmes which are challenging, inspiring and innovative. Rachel holds a Masters degree with distinction in education and training.

If you no longer wish to receive email bulletins about training courses provided by Phlexglobal please email training@phlexglobal.com; subject: Unsubscribe.

INVESTOR IN PEOPLE

Phlexglobal Ltd
Mandeville House, 62 The Broadway, Amersham, Bucks HP7 0HJ.
Registered in England and Wales 354 4670

